

Week 4: Storyboard - Use Case 1

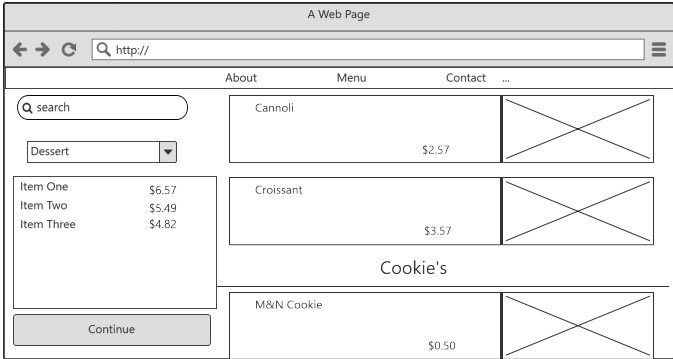

Home Screen

Displays an overview of basic useful information on the Bakery. User comes to the site to place a order. The home page is viewed and it shows a images of the interior of the building across the top and images for different things they make. The user clicks on Place order and is taken to the menu.

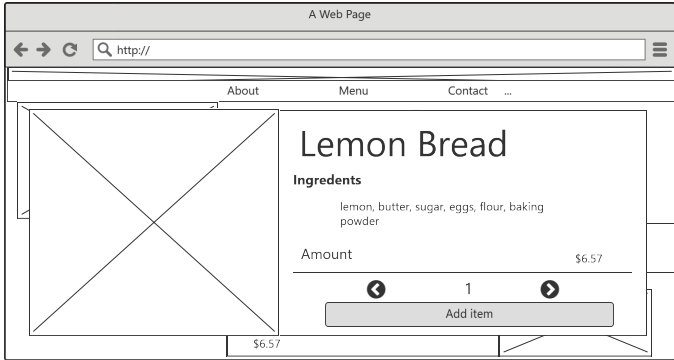

Menu #2

This is the top of the menu page where the user can search and see all the options the bakery offers. On the left side the user sees the option for breakfast chos and chooses that option where all breakfast options will be displayed.

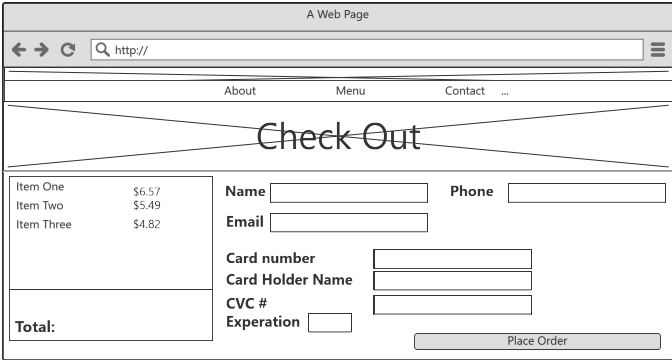

Menu scroll down #3

This page is the menu if the user scroll down to see more options on the menu. Each option is organized with a category title to help the user view the menu easier.

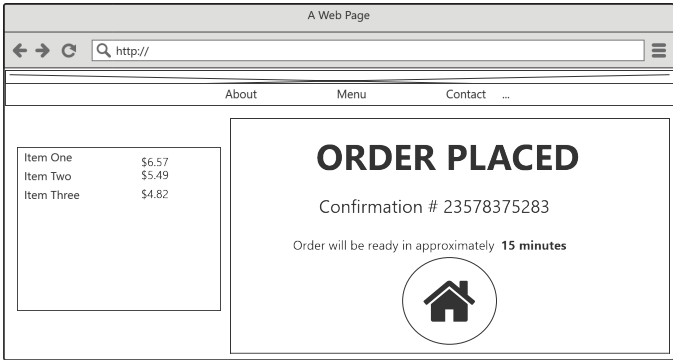

Item details #4

This page will display when the user clicks on the item. The information about the item like it's ingredients will be displayed so the user can clearly see what is in the food and understands what they are ordering. On the bottom the user can use the arrows to adjust the amount that they will want and it will add it to their order after the user clicks add item.

Check Out #5

Page takes users information for the order and displays items customer selected on the left side panel. The user will review their order and enter the information and click place order which will then send the order to the bakery to be made.

Order Placed #6

After the user clicks place order the conformation will display with a estimated wait time for their order to be ready. The user can then click the home button to go back to the main page.